Intriguing, Private, Timeless & Tranquil

ts timber construction is a work of art. This custom built and designed Donald Spencer pole home was inspired by the Sydney Opera House. Soaring ceilings and walls of glass showcase nature from every angle while natural light shows the warmth and deep colours of the natural timbers.

Positioned off the road and hidden behind established native gardens; this home offers a perfect marriage of architecture & location. Entertaining flows outside to a choice of winter and summer decks embracing private views across the native bush canopy.
